The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 10-11 and 13-14 identify distinct features, "storing attribute information on a user including a discussion requester and a discussion participant in an attribute information database, providing a template corresponding to a document to be discussed out of the templates stored in the document database to a first client at the discussion requester based on a work process relating to the document and the attribute information, creating a discussion document based on the template at the first client, transmitting a discussion request with the discussion document from the first client to a second client a discussion participant requesting the discussion participant to discuss the discussion document transmitted and displayed at the second client, searching material information designated by the discussion participant from a plurality of items of material information associated with the discussion document from the plurality of items of material information, providing the material information searched in the searching step to the discussion participant when discussing the discussion document, the discussion participant to discuss the discussion document displayed at the second client". The closest prior art, Yehuda et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,266,683), fails to suggest the claimed limitation as mentioned above in combination with other claimed elements. The above features in conjunction with all other limitations of the dependent and independent claims 10-11 and 13-14 are hereby allowed.
